Ivy Tech CNA/QMA Testing Online Application Status

From Ivy Tech Community College Testing Services: The third-party payment gateway provider for the online application experienced technical issues, and the application was taken offline earlier this week.

The application is currently back online. If online credit card payment is not available in the application, the payment page will display text with alternative payment processes.

Thank you for your patience.

Ivy Tech CNA/QMA Testing Online Application
Training and Demonstration Sessions

Ivy Tech will host additional sessions of Zoom Online Application Training and Demonstration on the dates and times listed below. All four sessions will cover the same material. The training will demonstrate how the new online application system works, what you will see on the screen, how you can help your students, and more. Trainers will demonstrate both bulk and individual applications to answer the most frequently received questions. There will be a Q&A as time allows.

Registration is not required. All program directors, instructors, clinical supervisors, office staff, etc. are welcome. Feel free to share the Zoom meeting link. If you think you might need to submit an application or help someone submit an application – this is for you! It will not be aimed at students or candidates. We are recording some short training sessions for them.

The dates are:

- Feb 23, 2024 – 9 a.m. to noon EST
- March 1, 2024 – 9 a.m. to noon EST
- March 8, 2024 – 9 a.m. to noon EST
