SECTION 8SIGNIFICANCE OF PROPOSED MARKER TOPIC AND DOCUMENTATION

This section is crucial in the evaluation process and must be completed. Focus your research on the state, national, and/or international significance of your topic. In other words, explain the impact, effect, or contribution of your topic to Indiana, to the United States, and/or to the world. Please note that topics of only local significance are not eligible for a state marker.

Use the Significance and Documentation Worksheet, pages 4, 5, and 6, to demonstrate the statewide importance of your topic. Provide at least six (6) but no more than twelve (12) points. Cite at least one primary source for each point and list the location(s) where you found it so others could find that same source.

Examples of primary sources may include vital records, wills, letters, diaries, land records, city directories, Sanborn maps, speeches, company newsletters, contemporary newspapers, patents, and acts of the General Assembly.

You must provide photocopies or scans of primary sources listed on your Worksheet when you submit your application. Digitized primary sources, such as electronic newspaper articles, scanned letters, or reports, can be submitted on a flash drive, CD, or e-mailed to us in a single PDF along with the application.

Please keep copies of your initial research and retain additional research to share with Indiana Historical Bureau staff if your application is approved and further documentation is needed.
